Hi Randi – this has worked fine thank you.

I have just paid your bank the £600.00. It may take a couple of days but please let me know when you receive it.

The money was raised by a fashion brand called Sezane who sells mostly online. If you are interested their website is <https://www.sezane.com/en> and if you go to their About section and click on Who Are We. Then scroll down quite a bit to SÉZANE EN ROSE you will see their commitment to Breast Cancer and they say: On the first Wednesday of every month, we wear pink to raise awareness and support breast cancer organizations across the world with our special creations.

We have a 'contract' to repatriate to each country (there are 20 of them) their donations per each garment sold.

I am also collating messages of thanks for the charities receiving the grant so please also say a few words of thanks which we will pass onto Sezane from all 20 of you receiving the money they have raised.

If you are interested most of the charities we have donated too are part of the Think Pink Europe network and I think there is not yet a Danish member. www.Thinkpinkeurope.org

Kind Regards and have a great weekend!

Dear Jonathan

I was speaking to the Coalition's President this morning, she is also the President of ED Slovenia and she sends her regards and thanks you for seeking out and facilitating the donation to Europa Donna Slovenia.

I am copying Tanja Schneider, national representative of ED Austria, Randi Krogsgaard, National rep of ED Denmark and Cristina Guerrero Paez, National rep for ED Netherlands. I would ask them to read the email exchange string and get in contact with you directly to see how they can help you donate the allocated amounts to breast cancer charities in their countries.

Hope this is useful to all!

I will shortly get back to you regarding Germany.

Kindest regards

Marzia

Hello Marzia and thank you for a speedy reply.

I have managed to find Breast Cancer charities in a couple of the countries on my original list. If there is no specific breast cancer charity then we will donate to a cancer charity also dealing with breast cancer as part of their cancer portfolio.

Therefore I would be grateful if you had any contacts in the following:

- Germany where I have £11,500 to give them
- Austria where I have £2,000 to give them

And in the following countries I have tried to contact a charity but have received no reply – do you have any contacts or alternatives

- Denmark – I have sent an email to enquiries at The Danish Cancer Society but have had no response
- The Netherlands, I have tried KWF Dutch Cancer Society but have had no response

Thank you for any help or contacts you may be able to supply me. And sorry SA was a typo!

Dear Tina, thank you for the introduction

Dear John, a pleasure to e-meet you, and to help if I can

My understanding from your email is that you would like to identify national charities in these countries, am I correct? As Europa Donna Coalition we work with breast cancer organisations from 47 European countries, and I can of course share details with you at your convenience.

I was wondering what country SA would stand for.

Anyway, glad to be of help, we can have a TC in the next days.

Kindest regards
Marzia

Dear Marzia

We are putting you in touch with Jonathan Prince, who we know. He has attended several of our Symposium and is a supporter of ED UK.

As you can see from his email below, and I have since spoken to him, he has funds which he would like to distribute in Europe to breast cancer charities. I am not sure if you are able to assist him.

Jonathan, Marzia is the new CEO of Milan and hopefully she will be able to help you further.

With kind regards
Tina

Hello Margaret - I wonder if you could please help me.

We are working with a new international fashion company and they have raised some money from European sales which we want to repatriate. I am looking for breast cancer charities in the following countries and wondered if you have any contacts in the following countries and also if you could give me a contact person if you have it (but a charity would do). The countries are:

- Denmark
- Germany
- The Netherlands
- Austria
- SA
- Sweden

No problem if you cannot help but I hope that with your Europa donna connections you might just have this information.

Kind Regards

Jonathan
